ON APPEAL FROM THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE A2/2020/2034B 2 to say. That is the only point QUEEN'S BENCH DIVISION 3 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes. I certainly reinforce that. Copies Royal Courts of Justice Strand, London WC2A 2LL 4 of the order are available and can be consulted by anyone who 5 is in any doubt. Thursday, 18th March 2021 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, thank you. Can I state the background 6 7 very briefly, because everyone is aware of it. LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Can we just get a feel for the timing. 8 LORD JUSTICE DINGEMANS BETWEEN: 9 Have you spoken to Ms. Wass about this? 10 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, no, because your Lordship's direction JOHN CHRISTOPHER DEPP II Appellant 11 rather implied that the court would be flexible about it and - and -12 would take a view. I am certainly aiming to leave a little (1) NEWS GROUP NEWSPAPERS LTD (2) DAN WOTTON 1.3 time at the end for the other side to have their say. And we will want enough time left to see what [Page 1] [Page 3] ANDREW CALDECOTT QC ANDREW CALDECOTT OC 2 2 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: ... or photos made of it. Still less we need help on. 3 should anything be retransmitted on social media or any other 3 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes. 4 4 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I think if you could aim to have way. That applies to anyone viewing. Of course, that does 5 not prevent ordinary reporting by journalists and others 5 completed your submissions in something like an hour and a 6 watching in the usual way. Yes, Mr. Caldecott? 6 half, we will then take stock. But that will leave time for 7 7 Ms. Wass and as I have been told, Mr. Wolanski as well, to MR. Mr. Depp brought this libel action against 10 and Ms. Clara Hamer appear for the respondents, News Group 10 the respondents in relation to an article published on 27th 11 11 April 2018. Just to give your Lordships the reference, 13 13 complained of. it is bundle A, orange tab 5, page 74. 14 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Just one more thing, Mr. Caldecott, and 14 My Lord, there is a privacy order in place which 15 I thought I should just mention. It has already been made. 15 then I will let you get on. I should say I quite understand 16 I just mention it so that the media can obtain copies. I hope 16 you want briefly to open it and that is understood, but we 17 it is outside court on display, but if anybody want to see it 17 both found your note extremely helpful. 18 they obviously can. 18 MR. - MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, I will be very brief. For the benefit of those watching ----
- 4 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Of course, but I wanted to say that.
- 5 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, that is very helpful. The judge found
- 6 for the respondents on their plea of truth under section 2,
- 7 that the 14 pleaded incidents of violence all but two were
- 8 found to be made out. The ones that were not were incidents 6 and 11. 9

11 Following the verdict, Mr. Depp issued the two applications.

The first in time was for permission to appeal and then as a result of documents becoming available and through some subpoenas in the United States and through Ms. Heard's own disclosure in the Virginia defamation action later in January, the application for permission to adduce fresh evidence.

17 I propose to follow my reading list if I may in terms of 18 the order and deal with the fresh evidence first. My Lord, I do need your Lordship's permission to add two further witness statements. They are de bene esse, as it were, at tabs 11 and 12 of bundle C. Your Lordship will have noted that there is an apology for this, because there was an omission. It is obviously something your Lordship should be aware of. 24 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Let us see. I cannot imagine there is an

25 objection to being referred to them without prejudice to any [Page 6]

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

to take up time reading them but that is where they are to be

My Lord, there is one issue of law between us. Lam going to take our position very briefly. The respondents rely on a case called Braddock, which imposes a very high threshold indeed, but we say that is not the applicable threshold in this case. In Braddock there was no deception of the court at all, there was a subsequent discovery of historic convictions, in fact of uncertain date, and it solely went to credibility and there was no deception of the court. We submit that where there has been a deception of the court, which is our case, we say the correct test is the "real danger" test which is that which appears in Hamilton v Al-Fayed, at paragraph 34 and it is in the authorities bundle. There has to be a real danger that it influenced the judge in terms of the outcome or not merely as to one or two incidents.

My Lord, there is one other point I should just mention. Your Lordships will no doubt be aware of the famous case of Meek v Fleming. In most of these cases, though not Braddock, it is the party who has been responsible for the deception. In this case it is not a party, but we say that the same principle must apply, and indeed the Hamilton test, which I think is paragraph 34, does not put it in terms of the party having to be responsible for the deception; it would be a decision we may ultimately make about their admissibility.

MS. WASS: My Lords, Mr. Wolanski is going to be dealing with the second part of this application, namely the fresh evidence and I will let him deal with that. I am going to be dealing with 6 any assistance I can give the court in relation to the permission to appeal.

8 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Very well. Thank you. Mr. Wolanski, no

9 need to come forward to deal with this. There cannot be any difficulty about our reading those witness statements, indeed 11 we already have.

MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, the legal principles here are very well

13 known. If your Lordships want a convenient place to find

14 them, without having to turn to any authorities, pages 1798 to 15 1799 of CPR volume 1 set out the principles. Just to give

16 your Lordships some shorthand, the well known original Ladd v

17 Marshall test, the first one is reasonable diligence, I am

18 using shorthand, the second is probable important influence 19 and the third is apparently credible. As we know, the 20 position is now these are not rules but they are principles to which the court will still always have regard, but just

2.2 bearing in mind that the overriding objective is to do

23 justice. There is a case called Terluk and a citation from 24 Hamilton v Al-Faved in those notes on those two pages. 25 I suspect your Lordship is well aware of them. I am not going nonsensical description, really, if one is concerned with a just outcome. Here the key witness for the defendants was Ms. Heard. They would have had no defence without Ms. Heard. There were many other witnesses, but she was, on any view, centre stage.

My Lord I am going to follow, if I may, the order in my reading list.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes.

10 MR. CALDECOTT: The first question is the meaning of the evidence 11 which we say was false. My Lord, it is quite convenient, just 12 so as not to jump around, to keep to the green bundle, which 1.3 is the fresh evidence bundle for these purposes. If you 14 kindly go, please, to page 9 of C3 -- I beg your pardon, it is 15 C9, I should say. That is entirely my fault. If you could,

16 please, just go to Ms. Howell's witness statement, she deals 17 with the relevant extract from the witness statement at 18 paragraph 16. "As for what Johnny says about my so-called 19 agenda in marrying him, the financial benefit would somehow further my career, that is preposterous. I remained

21 financially independent from him the whole time we were 22 together and the entire amount of my divorce settlement was 23 donated to charity. In fact my desire to remain financially independent was one of the main sources of conflict during our relationship." The context has some importance here. The

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC divorce was settled by a joint statement in August 2016, which was a basic part of the background narrative at the trial, and the witness statement from Ms. Heard was put in on 26th February 2020. Your Lordships will recall that there was an original trial date in March, which was later adjourned. There is no reference at all in the witness statement to future intentions or pledges. It means what it says we say, that all 7 million have been given to charity and I have not kept a sent. That is clearly how the judge understood it. If one looks at paragraph 20 on the adjacent page, please, at C10, in tab 3, he deals with the gold-digger scenario in the first part of that quote. Then about six lines up, he says this: "Ms. Heard's evidence that she had given that sum away to charity was not challenged on behalf of Mr. Depp, and the joint statement issued by Mr. Depp and Ms. Heard as part of the deal point memorandum acknowledged that this was her intention. I recognised that there were other elements to the divorce settlement as well, but a donation of $7 million to charity is hardly the act one would expect of a gold-digger."

My Lords, I will come back, if I may, to some further messages which we say that conveys. That is the literal meaning. Can I just deal with the literal true position first? There were two charities that received money from

2 Where do we get 24th August from?

3 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, I think it is an error in my note.

I think your Lordship is right.

5 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It does not matter.

6 MR. CALDECOTT: I am reading down to the next document. It is

18th August. That is my fault. My Lord, page 31 -- I am

8 dealing, first of all, if I may with The Children's 9 Hospital -- is a donation letter from Mr. White. Can I just

1.0 explain. Mr. White is an accountant, a senior partner in his 11 firm, who is advising Mr. Depp.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Just before we leave the previous

1.3 document, as I have understood it, for reasons which of course

14 are explained, that document was not before the judge, because

15 there was no challenge to her statement that she had given 7 million, details of who she gave it to and what exactly she 16

17 said outside were not before the court. Is that right?

18 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, it is not quite right. If I say the 19 position is this, this document was in the trial bundle, but it was not referred to in evidence.

2.1 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes.

22 MR. CALDECOTT: And it is fair to say, and I was going to come to this later, that the judge does not refer to it in his judgment and we simply do not know whether he read it or not.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It is one of the documents which was

Ms. Heard. The Children's Hospital of Los Angeles and the American Civil Liberties Union. On 18th August, this is 2016,

Ms. Heard had publicly stated that the $7 million would be equally divided between them. Again in the same file, if you

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

6 could kindly go to page C29 in the same tab 3, this is the 7 green file still, you will see that there is an italicised > statement from Ms. Heard, the second paragraph: "As reported in the media, the amount received in the divorce was 7 million and $7 million is being donated. This is over and above any funds that I have given away in the past and will continue to give away in the future. The donation will be divided equally

13 between the ACLU with a particular focus to stop violence

14 against women and The Children's Hospital of Los Angeles, 15 where I have worked as a volunteer", and so on. That was issued on August 24th, 2016, shortly after the previous joint statement. The true position as to the hospital ----

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Sorry, can I be absolutely clear how these documents fit together. At C27 we have something of August 18th. I have read the text that follows -- in fact it is clear the text that follows at C28 is the text that goes 22 with that picture at C27.

23 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes.

24 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: And indeed the text that follows that is clearly page 3 of 6, so it is clearly the same document.

asked to be put into the trial bundle by your team.

3 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, it is a point the other side make, my Lord,

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Sorry, you were about to refer to Mr. White.

7 MR. CALDECOTT: Not at all, my Lord; it is important to get these

8 matters right. Page 31 is the only donation that was ever

9 made to The Children's Hospital on the evidence. It is a 10 donation sent by Mr. White, whose position is as I have 11 explained, and he says: "This donation has been made in 12 accordance with Ms. Heard's pledged gift of $3.5 million to 13 The Children's Hospital Los Angeles Foundation. This cheque

14 represents the first of multiple scheduled instalments to 15 honour the full amount of Ms. Heard's $3.5 million pledged 16 gift." My Lord, that is obviously, as it were, parasitical on 17 the public announcement you have just looked at. Indeed it is 18 sent only six days later. The instalment point reflects the

19 obvious fact that the payment of the $7 million was to be by instalments.

21 My Lord the next important letter, and this is an

2.2 important letter, is at page 42, and this is three years ----

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I am sorry, can I ask one other question

24 about C31?

MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, my Lord.

[Page 12] [Page 14] 1 ANDREW CALDECOTT QC 1 ANDREW CALDECOTT QC 2 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I think I saw, though I have not, I am 2 attorneys, or ---3 afraid, noted the reference, that Mr. White says he had a 3 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I do not want to take up your valuable 4 discussion with Ms. Heard, not saying that he would make this 4 time, but part of the value of this hearing is to pin down --5 5 I think there is a slight uncertainty as to whether this was payment, because that was contentious once it happened, but 6 entirely out of the blue or whether there had been some prior 6 nevertheless about certain tax aspects. I cannot remember the exact detail. Do we have evidence as to whether he had spoken 7 8 to Ms. Heard before the letter of 24th August? 8 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, there is a suggestion that there may have 9 MR. CALDECOTT: There is no evidence that I am aware of of him 9 been some contact about the tax situation. 10 speaking to Ms. Heard but there was a letter from Ms. Heard's 1.0 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes. Thank you, Ms. Wass, for that attorneys taking exception ----11 11 reference. 12 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: That is afterwards. 12 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, thank you. My Lord, can we go, please, to MR. CALDECOTT: Yes. 1.3 1.3 page 42, which I know your Lordships will have looked at from 14 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Did not Mr. White say somewhere that he 14 the reading list. 1.5 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes. had had a discussion with Ms. Heard about ----15 16 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, he says he had a discussion with 16 MR. CALDECOTT: There are two letters here. There is an earlier 17 Mr. Depp's attorneys, and he got no answer. That is my 17 letter to Mr. White on 14th June, on page 41, and this is the 18 letter that Mr. White says never reached him. I will have to 18 recollection. 19 MS. WASS: Can I help? 19 come back to that when I look at reasonable diligence. But on 20 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I think Ms. Wass knows what I am 2.0 the question of the true position, this letter is important. 2.1 2.1 "I am following up on the correspondence with The Children's referring to. 2.2 Hospital Los Angeles, received on August 26th, 2016 when it 2.2 MS. WASS: Yes, I do. My Lord may be assisted by the agreed 23 chronology that appears at bundle A behind divider 3. Indeed, 23 was notified by Mr. White", and so on. That is a reference 24 it would be, I hope, of assistance to my learned friend to 24 back to the letter we have just looked at. "I am inquiring if 25 25 refer to that as well, because the dates are all ---you have knowledge if the hospital should expect further [Page 13] [Page 15] ANDREW CALDECOTT QC ANDREW CALDECOTT QC 1 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes. 2 2 instalments on your behalf or if the pledge will not be 3 MS. WASS: At page A48.4, at item 131 -- does my Lord have that? 3 fulfilled. I appreciate any insights on this matter and I can LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I have. be reached at via a direct line", and so on. My Lord, there 4 4 5 MS. WASS: That is a passage of a transcript. As my Lord knows are two important points about this letter. First, there is 6 6 no evidence that it was ever replied to. 7 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I am sorry, I have page 48 but I do not 7 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: The letter was obtained on the subpoena 8 have the particular entry you want us to look at. 8 to CHLA, so one would expect that if there was a reply, it 9 9 MS. WASS: A48.4 is where it start, at the bottom of that page. would be on their file and it would have been disclosed. 10 It is day 5, cross-examination of Ed White by the defendants' 10 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, and also, my Lord, there has now been 11 11 counsel. On the top of page 48.5, the answer at the top of disclosure by Ms. Heard in the Virginia proceedings and no 12 that is the question ---12 reply has been disclosed. 13 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Thank you. That is exactly what I had in 13 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Thank you. 14 14 mind. Mr. Caldecott, his evidence was therefore that during MR. CALDECOTT: There are a number of points about this. First of 15 15 all, the only evidence of a pledge which this letter suggests that time -- I am not quite clear what that means --16 16 I suggested to her she did not need non-taxable income. I do exists is drawn from Mr. White's own letter. There is no 17 not understand the details and it does not matter. Is it 17 reference here to any independent pledge from Ms. Heard. 18 clear from that that before he made that payment, he had some 18 Secondly, I just make this point, that it is an entirely 19 discussion with her about the correct approach to the payment 19 understandable letter for a charity to send, and one would 20 she said she wanted to make? It rather looks like that. 20 reasonably have expected a reply if there was some genuine MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, what is slightly difficult about this, 21 21 future commitment to continue to give. In short, on the 2.2 and I do not want to spend too much time on it, is that there 2.2 evidence as to The Children's Hospital, it appears from what 2.3 obviously was a disagreement about this, as we know, because 2.3 we can see that there was no apparent pledge produced by 24 her attorneys then write back and take exception. It is a 24 Ms. Heard and the only donation was $100,000, not the 3.5 25 little uncertain whether he is talking about her or her 25 million, which we say the court was led to believe was the

[Page 16] 1 ANDREW CALDECOTT QC 2 true position. 3 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Do you say that the evidence supports the 4 inference that her appearance on the roll of honour donors, if 5 I have the name right, is also based on Mr. White's letter of 6 7 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, we do. LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I see. 8 9 MR. CALDECOTT: We do. 10 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Thank you. 11 MR. CALDECOTT: The position is different in relation to the 12 American Civil Liberties Union. It received $350,000 from Ms. Heard, which is of course a tenth of $350 million, and 13 14 again an additional $100,000 from Mr. White sent on the same day. I do not think we need look at it, but the letter of 15 16 acknowledgment of receipt of the $350,000 is at page 281 of 17 tab 3. Mr. White's cheque, again on 24th August, is at page 174 of tab 3. There is an unsigned pledge, as 18 19 your Lordship will have seen, at page 279. There is no 20 equivalent document for The Children's Hospital. It is not 21 signed and it does not specify what the instalment payments will be. It merely says they will start on 19th August 2016. 2.2 23 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: You are right that it is not signed, but 24 it is also the case that C281 is a letter from ACLU to 25 Ms. Heard, referring to "your very generous pledge". So they honesty is the timeline. The final divorce instalment was paid on 1st February 2018. The third point is her stance in the American subpoena proceedings. If I could just take your Lordship to the chronology that my learned friend helpfully referred to at tab 3, the various steps that she took, and there is in fact one additional one, you will see at cell 129 the trial finished on 28th July 2020. We know that as against The Children's Hospital -- I will have to come back to the extension on reasonable diligence, if I may -- the extension of the documents were due on 29th July. The following day, if we look at cell 137, this is right after the conclusion of the trial, on the very day that the documents are due, she files a petition to quash the subpoena. That is cell 137. She appeals the decision against her on 23rd November at cell 142. That was dismissed on 18th December. That is at cell 146. We also know now from Ms. Vasquez's witness statement at tab 12 of the fresh evidence green bundle, at paragraph 38 on page 584, that even then she sought to have the documents designated as confidential, meaning that they could not be used in these proceedings and Mr. Depp, through his attorneys, had to reply to have them de-designated.

Now, there is a further important point which is not quite so obvious. If your Lordships would kindly just look at

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC 1 2 certainly thought that they had an effective pledge. 3 MR. CALDECOTT: Absolutely, my Lord. There is this distinction between The Children's Hospital and ACLU on the evidence. 4 5 Unlike The Children's Hospital, the ACLU was aware of a 6 pledge, and that appears to be from Ms. Heard. It certainly 7 cannot be said that it was only from Mr. White with any 8 clarity. 9 So the position in relation to the ACLU is that they 10 received $450,000 as against $3.5 million. Now, the next 11 question is the position as to honesty. There is at the 12 moment no evidence before the court from Ms. Heard herself, 13 either directly or indirectly, about this, by which I mean 14 post-trial evidence. The inference from the true position 15 against the reality is the first point we make. The gap is so 16 17 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Sorry, you say there is no evidence from 18 her directly. Obviously, that is the case. Indirectly, have 19 we not got a transcript of what her counsel said ----20 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, your Lordship has that. LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: That, as I understand it, is a statement 21 2.2 on her behalf that the full payments have not been made. 23 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes. 24 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: But he says they will be. 25 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes. My Lord, the second important point on

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

The Children's Hospital subpoena at C3, the same file, please, page 207, this is about, really, the opportunity to correct. At C207, your Lordships will see under "Certificate of Service": "I hereby certify that I caused a true and correct copy of the enclosed subpoena", can I pause to say your Lordships will remember subpoenas are issued originally in Virginia and then you have to have a subpoena issued in California to be effective. This is the Virginia one. "I enclose a true and correct copy of the enclosed subpoena for production to be sent by e-mail on this 29th day of counsel of records, signed by Mr. Choo", who was Mr. Depp's attorney. There is a service list on the right-hand side. It is obvious Ms. Heard did know, because she makes her application on 29th July. But this is on 29th May, when the subpoena is issued. It's counsel, at the bottom left column, counsel for the defendant, Amber Laura Heard, is Mr. Rottenborn (?). So she knows subpoenas have been issued on 29th May. She is in court, and your Lordships have seen, I am not going to take you to it, there is a reference in closing and there is a reference in the judgment, sometimes there is no doubt errors are made in witness statements in haste and they are corrected, and it is commonplace. But at this stage, as at May 29th, she can be assumed to have been told this by her attorneys, she knows that subpoenas are being pursued and that must have focused her mind on the true position, we say, and whether or not that witness statement required revision. We obviously invite the inference that that step was not taken because it was appreciated how damaging a correction might be. That does to some extent go to my next heading, which is obviously the important one, of materiality. I am going to deal with reasonable diligence last.

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

My Lord, the evidence has, we say, two obvious effects which would have been apparent to the judge. The first is, this is a wholly remarkable act of philanthropy, if true. It is a remarkable thing to do. On any view, it is, if I can put it this way, a considerable boost to her credit as a person.

The secondary message, and I accept the judge does not allude to this in terms, but we say it is a potent subliminal message, "I want him to pay, but I do not want to keep a dime of his money because of the way I have been treated". And obviously, in the context of this case, it implies revulsion at the way he has treated her physically.

Your Lordship, if I may say so, pertinently put me a third proposition this morning and I cannot say that the judge was aware of this, which is the third point, that the focus of the ACLU contribution in her public statement was to victims of domestic violence. But it would be mere speculation as to whether the judge did or did not read that document. I am not

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

- 2 credit. This evidence, we say, does not go solely as to
- $\ensuremath{\mathtt{3}}$ credit, because of the secondary message I have referred to
- 4 that she wanted him to pay but did not want any of his money
- 5 because of the way he treated her. Of course, there is a
- 6 third category, which is where the evidence goes directly to
- 7 the believability on a detailed primary issue, namely, for
- 8 example, whether he assaulted her in incident 2. I am not
- 9 suggesting it is that kind of evidence. But equally, it is
- 10 not evidence solely as to credit.
- LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: So tell me again so I can note it down,
- 12 exactly what you say it goes to, which is not credit, it goes
- 13 to whether ----
- 14 MR. CALDECOTT: It goes to the likely starting point the judge
- would have taken as to whether she was a likely victim of
- 16 domestic violence, having given away the entirety of her
- 17 financial divorce settlement.
- 18 LORD JUSTICE DINGEMANS: Is there any indication in the judgment
- 19 that the judge took that view?
- 20 MR. CALDECOTT: The words the judge uses are simply this, "these - are certainly not the actions of a gold-digger", but that begs
- the question, what are they the actions of? One would not
- expect the judge to go into what he subliminally thought about
- 24 this, but we say the message is very clear. When he says it
 - is not the actions of a gold-digger, it has a quite additional

[raye ZI

aware that it was referred to in evidence. There were a huge number of bundles, and I would not be right to try and draw that inference

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

My Lord, this is a very different case from Braddock. First of all, it is evidence in the case to which the judge refers to in his judgment; secondly, it creates a very potent starting point when considering the kind of person Ms. Heard appears to be, and thirdly, it does go, we say, to some degree, to the likelihood of her being a victim of grave domestic violence. It tips the scales against Mr. Depp from the very beginning.

May I deal with one argument which is made against me, which I understand, and the argument is this. It only came in as an answer to the gold-digging allegation which was not pursued at the trial. That is correct. But our case in this court is not based on the suggestion that in fact she was a gold-digger, but on the very different but equally, in fact, if anything, more potent message, that these are the actions of a very virtuous person and a victim.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: So, do not take this as a pointed observation, but just for clarity, effectively you are asking for it to go in as to credit.

MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, there is a very interesting — every case has its own geography. Some evidence goes solely as to

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

- positive force as to the kind of person she is.
- 3 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: If you read that passage in the judgment,
- 4 perhaps you are going to take us back to it, but it all starts
- 5 with Mr. Depp's repeated characterisation of her as a
- 6 gold-digger, and his theory that he had an insurance
- 7 policy ----

- 8 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes.
- 9 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: ---- which he equates with being a
 - gold-digger, which, as you say, certainly at one point
- Mr. Sherborne had disavowed but the judge thought it might
- 12 still be live in one form or another.
 - MR. CALDECOTT: Yes.
- 14 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: He is certainly not directly dealing with
- it as going to credit at all, is he, even in your sense?
- MR. CALDECOTT: No. No. Your Lordships will know as trial judges
- 17 there are commonly potent background material about a person
- which influence the way in which you can consider, is it
- 19 likely that they were the victim or they were the perpetrator
- 20 or whatever. In fairness, the other side did not put it on
- that basis, I also accept. But that is not the point. It is the tilting of the scales from the outset. It is a false plus
- to her and it is a false minus to him, if I can put it that
- 24 way.
- 25 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes. Can you just help me on one point of actually how the point was deployed. I have seen several references to Mr. Depp having made this point in his evidence, and indeed in things he said in texts and so forth. I have read the passage to which we were referred in which Mr. Sherborne disavowed that as part of the case. But it slightly reads, or one gets the impression from paragraph 577 that Mr. Sherborne, I do not mean this rudely, might have gone back on that a little and it might have formed part of the closing submissions. We have not got to that passage of the closing submissions, or, if we have, I have overlooked it. It may not matter very much, but because we are focusing on this paragraph it would be quite useful to know why the judge was addressing it. Are you in a position ----MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, I have explored this. I will ask Mr. Sherborne again, but my understanding is that he did not pursue gold-digger in closing at all. Can I make one other point while we are on this. Ms. Heard had a perfectly valid answer in her witness statement to this allegation, which was the statement almost immediately preceding the one we complain of, where she said, "I always insisted on being financially independent". She says that in the witness statement in the very same passage. She had no need to put this in at all.

Now, my Lord, to assist on reasonable diligence, I have him: see paragraph 8 of his third witness statement, tab 8, 3

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It is a bit surprising, is it not, the 4

5 letter to him apparently at his office ----

MR. CALDECOTT: Can I advance some reasons why it does seem to be the likely result. First of all, there is no reply from 8 Mr. White, as you would certainly expect if he had received

9 it; secondly, the letter never got through to the applicant's

10 US attorneys and you would have expected Mr. White to have 11 forwarded it if he had received it -- bearing in mind the 12 Virginia defamation action had begun in March before this 13 letter was received -- and those two, we say, support the 14 probability.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes.

16 MR. CALDECOTT: I understand, your Lordship is quite right, one

17 instantly says, one usually does receive one's post, but there it is. Those are the Mr. White group of points. The next 18

19 group of points are taken on alleged inaction before the 20

trial. First of all it is said it is not included in the

2.1 application made against (unclear due to audio distortion) 22 third party disclosure in this action. There is a very short

23 answer to that. First of all, the application which was made

24 was rejected in its entirety; and, secondly, there was no prospect whatever of satisfying the very stringent rules in divided them up into different groups of points, so a slightly more easier way of looking at it. The first group of points made against me all relate to Mr. White whom I have already introduced. It is said that he knew that Ms. Heard's donation to the hospital was to be paid in instalments by reason of the letter from him of 24th August. That is true, but it is just after the divorce has been announced and it merely reflects the fact that the payment was going to be made in instalments by Mr. Depp to Ms. Heard. It does not take us any further on the issue.

The second is a reference to Mr. White's cross-examination, just to give your Lordships a reference, at tab 4, page 348, internal transcript, top right, page 811. He in fact gave some evidence about incident 13 because he was at the dinner party. It is said Mr. White did not ask the charities but he could have done. He explained why he does not in paragraph 7 of his third witness statement at tab 8, page 565 of the same bundle. And as to the other inquiries, he deals with those in the same witness statement. He says they were made of the US attorneys and they did not have any information.

The respondents also point to the letter at page 41, dated 14th June 2019, which we very briefly looked at. And Mr. White confirms that this letter did not get through to 31.17(3)(a) of the CPR at page 1033. Because if you are applying against a third party, as the court will know, you have to show it is likely to either damage the case or advance the case, the usual disclosure rule. If you have no evidence to show that it is likely and it is simply a speculative application you do not get over the basic hurdle.

The second point made about pre-trial conduct is that we did not seek to adjourn the trial, have the evidence produced. If we could quickly go back to the chronology for these purposes at tab 3. Your Lordships will see from cell 104 that the trial was originally scheduled to start on 23rd March, and to run to 3rd April. It was adjourned on 20th March and by now, of course, we are into full Covid, a lockdown was at the very beginning of that month. The defendants opposed that first application to adjourn and they said in open court, which was widely reported, that Mr. Depp was running scared and would never turn up. It is wholly fanciful to suppose that the court would have granted a second adjournment of a trial, and those of us who deal with adjournments regularly know -- and Dingemans LJ will know this -- the courts are very reluctant to adjourn trial dates and particularly second trial

The third point, which I accept requires closer consideration, is the true suggestion that the US subpoenas could -- could -- have been issued earlier. We say that the dates none the less require scrutiny, because the question is whether we could have obtained the evidence with reasonable diligence. Cell 88, just to remind us, is that this becomes evidence in the case on 26th February 2020. It is when the third witness statement is put in. That obviously raises the

I do not ask your Lordships to go through them now, but you will see from cells 89 to 111 that there is an enormous amount of interlocutory activity going on in the case, all the kind of skirmishing with which I am afraid these cases tend to have as they come close to trial.

Covid intervenes. I think lockdown was 23rd March. We of course now are living an experience at the other end of the tunnel, not quite at the end of it, but getting to the end of it. But it is very easy to forget the complete disruption that the Covid lockdown had, and of course we know, for example, the ACLU closed its offices, which caused considerable problems for service. The subpoenas were in fact issued on 29th May. That is cell 112.

Now, The Children's Hospital request for an extension which of course is something that I have to deal with --LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It is clear they did make a request.

give on the topic. The reference is page 373, internal

The next question, point, rather, that is put against us

3 transcript page 153.

is that Ms. Heard was not cross-examined on the issue. It is perfectly true that there was a general view that she was untrustworthy and there was scepticism about this claim, but there was no evidence to gainsay her evidence and we say it was a perfectly reasonable decision not to cross-examine on them in those circumstances.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It would have been perfectly possible to ask her a neutral question, along the lines of, to whom has the money been donated, what sums were paid and when.

14 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: We do not know what answer -- well, we 16 know now what a truthful answer would have had to have been, but she was not given the opportunity to say, as she might 18 have done, "Well, I have only paid a comparatively small sum so far but I have made a pledge to both and I will be paying ti over X years". We just do not know what she would have

21 said

MR. CALDECOTT: But even supposing hypothetically the question had been asked, it would not have produced these documents. You

24 cannot properly ask ----

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: No, but if she had answered that you hospital. The letter is sent on 26th June. It does not actually get through until the 29th, which is over a weekend, and the real point about it is they expressly refer to staffing problems at the hospital as a result of Covid. The evidence -- and I may not go to it in detail because of time -- is that refusing the extension would have just brought trouble.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: We have read that evidence. Speaking for myself, I can understand it.

MR. CALDECOTT: Yes. What is revealing is that even with The Children's Hospital, it took many months to resolve

Ms. Heard's opposition. This is obviously a very important causative element. The last group -- and we say this is not a counsel of perfection, I accept the subpoenas could have been issued earlier but we say causatively the probability is they would not have produced anything in time -- relates to the applicant's position at trial. First of all a witness called Kristina Sexton, who is important on a quite different point, was called by the defendant and asked questions about the donations when she was deposed in the US. But that subject was not pursued with her at the trial of this action. I am going to give your Lordships a reference if I may. The simple reason is that Ms. Sexton's answers during the US deposition make it absolutely clear that she had no useful evidence to

would not have needed the documents. That would have shown what the documents you have had so far have in fact 4 established.

MR. CALDECOTT: For example, we say that the letter from The Children's Hospital has a far wider significance than that. It suggests there was no pledge at all, just the original $100,000. We say first of all, if you are talking about reasonable diligence, it is a perfectly reasonable decision by an advocate to make not to challenge a clear statement and it is a clear statement that she had donated it all. There was nothing, no evidence to suggest she had not.

I cannot dispute your Lordship's proposition that a neutral question could have been asked. But with respect, there is no real reason to assume that it would have produced what we now

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It is a point you are perhaps going to come to. Clearly that was at least in contemplation, because documents that would have lay behind such a question were included in the bundle, at your request.

included in the bundle, at your request.
 MR_CALDECOTT: Well the document

MR. CALDECOTT: Well, the documents were put in the bundle. The subpoenas were outstanding. The subpoenas were not effective in time for the trial for the reasons we have looked at.

Your Lordship is quite right that there was a decision to put those documents in. They do have a potential bearing on one

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC or two other issues potentially, particularly the relevant publicist, but your Lordship is right. I think it is accepted there were suspicions about the claim. Ms. Heard's view was untrustworthy and Mr. Depp was sceptical about it, but he had no evidence. My Lord, it is taking a number of speculative steps to assume that even a neutral question, had it been something we should have done, which is what it really has to be, even if that hurdle is got over, it is very speculative to assume it would have produced this evidence, bearing in mind the great lengths to which (unclear due to audio distortion).

Your Lordship also, I ask you to bear in mind the failure to correct during the trial. My Lord, two points, I mean, two points, one of the ones I have just dealt with, the other one was we did not put the request for admissions document in the trial. It is about the most disproportionate document I think I have ever seen. It is 157 browbeating requests. In fact under the American rules apparently you only have to answer 30. The fact there was a refusal to answer it takes one absolutely nowhere.

My Lord, can I just say one last concluding matter on this issue before I move on. That is this; that we do say there is a connection between our examples in our skeleton argument on permission to appeal as to the way in which the judge approached evidence adverse to Ms. Heard, does, we would because your Lordships are very familiar with these concerns,

3 there are really two. One is the judge's privileged position as having heard the witnesses and having a much closer familiarity with the evidence and the second is a question of 5

6 resource. Both those aspects are visited in the Central Bank

7 of Ecuador v Conticorp case which is at tab 7 of the 8 authorities bundle. Paragraphs 5 and 6 deal with the question 9 of resource and the privileged position of the judge.

10 My Lord, however, those principles do not apply if there 11 is a material self-misdirection as to the fact-finding 12 exercise. Your Lordships will know that we say that there is.

1.3 Can I take you to one case and just ----

14 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Of course. It would help me. You say 1.5 that there is a material misdirection. What are you referring 16 to? How do you formulate it?

> MR. CALDECOTT: The judge appears to take the view that there is an inherent superiority as a matter of principle to evidence given to the witness box over contemporary documents. Now, it

20 is perfectly true that Lord Goff's well known observation in 2.1 The Ocean Frost that contemporary documents are an essential check on credibility is not a rule of law, and your Lordship 2.2

2.3 will see that is referred to in one of the cases, but the 24 contrary proposition, we say, is simply erroneous.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes, okay I now see what you are

submit, provide some support for the real danger scenario, the test which we have to satisfy. Because we say that if you look at the judgment, material of a similar type against Mr. Depp is time and again acted on, but evidence against Ms. Heard -- and your Lordships will know there is a submission about contemporary documents which is very important on the permission to appeal application -- we say one view of this is that the judge had a very favourable starting point of Ms. Heard and was not really particularly interested in this adverse evidence.

My Lord, I was going to develop it a little bit (unclear due to audio distortion). Would your Lordship want me to go ahead and deal with the permission to appeal or to ----LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I think that makes sense, yes. MR. CALDECOTT: Thank you. If ever there was something this court does know about, it is the principles and I am not proposing to, other than to give your Lordships the obvious reference, the starting point test for permission to appeal is CPR 52.6(1)(a) at pages 1762-3 to be read with the ultimate test which are 52.21(3)(a) and (b). I am very conscious, in this position, of the natural cautions which an appellate court always has about reviewing the trial verdicts. If I can put it in very simple language, for an appeal, the Court of Appeal's powers to intervene,

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

referring to. This is the proposition you get out of that

3 paragraph 175.

4 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes.

5 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: We will wait till we get there. I was 6 not sure what you were referring to. You wanted to refer us to ----

MR. CALDECOTT: Just one case if I may. It is in the authorities bundle D at tab 9. The only two paragraphs with this in mind,

10 I would ask your Lordships to perhaps quickly read to 11 yourselves if you would be so kind, is 48 and 49 on page 242 12 under the heading "The importance of contemporary documents".

13 It conveniently includes Goff LJ (as he then was) famous 14 observation in The Ocean Frost.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: (Pause for reading) Yes.

16 MR. CALDECOTT: The first sentence at paragraph 49, your Lordships

17 will have noticed my point about the rule of law in that 18 sentence just above the quote from the The Ocean Frost: 19 "Although this cannot be regarded as a rule of law, those documents are generally regarded as far more reliable than 21 oral evidence of witnesses, still less their demeanour." And then the very important first sentence in 49, which is where 22 we say this case went materially adrift. My Lord, we have taken three examples only in this case.

Of course, if there was full permission, there would no doubt

- 3 these three examples. They all betray on the applicant's case
- 4 an error of legal approach, we say, to the judicial 5
- fact-finding exercise. Secondly, they all relate to 6 significant rather than peripheral issues. Thirdly, they show
- a disparity of approach to the evidence of Ms. Heard and

- 10 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Hang on, one second.
- 11 MR. CALDECOTT: Sorry, my Lord. Which we submit amounts to

- 19 support the concern that the judge was unduly influenced by
- 20 Ms. Heard's favour by the charity claim evidence.
- 2.1 My Lord, can I just add one postscript, a point I should have made earlier. The analysis in Meek v Fleming shows that 22
- 23 you do not only look at the effect of the false statement at
- 24 the trial when presented as true; you also look at what would
- 25 the effect of the trial have been if the statement (unclear

ANDREW CALDECOTT OC

invite your Lordships to listen to a short section. Because

3 time is short, can I just notice that the judge himself takes four examples at 171. These are all taken from this tape. If 5 one looks only at the last statement, just that alone, where 6 Ms. Heard says: "... I can't promise you that I'll be 7 perfect, I can't promise you that I won't get physical again.

8 God, I fucking sometimes get so made I lose it. I can fucking

9 promise you I'm ... I'll do everything to change ...", this

10 argument too was heavily relied on by the applicant both in 11 his opening and in his closing submissions, for reasons which

12 must be fairly obvious. If one goes back to 169, you will see 13 the judge summarises Ms. Heard's position on the evidence. 14 "Ms. Heard maintained that it had always been Mr. Depp who had been the aggressor. She said that the ----"

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Sorry, where are you? 17 MR. CALDECOTT: 169, at the bottom. "She said that the only

18 occasion when she hit him back had been in the course of 19 incident 9 ... when, in defence of herself and her sister ...

20 she had struck Mr. Depp." So, her evidence, which the judge

21 appears to have accepted, was that she was always the victim. 22 It is not quite a dismissal but it is very close to argument

23 2, which is dealt with at 175. "In my view no great weight is to be put on these alleged admissions by Ms. Heard to aggressive violent behaviour. It is trite to say, but due to audio distortion) to be false. In Meek v Fleming, you will see the court look at both. So you have to consider what would have been the effect on Ms. Heard's credibility if the untruth had been exposed.

My Lord, the treatment of contemporary documents. There are only two examples -- I am only going to take two of the three -- in the yellow bundle. I know your Lordships have been kind enough to read what is on the reading list and for that reason I am not going to go through it, but can I just remind your Lordships. It is at tab 34 of the yellow bundle. This was a recording which was made consensually as a therapeutic step to try to resolve the difficulties of the relationship. The judge does not refer to the timing, but for your Lordships' assistance my understanding is it is September (unclear due to audio distortion), which is between incidents 10 and 11, quite late in the story, but not (unclear due to audio distortion). Crucial is to understand that Ms. Heard's position was that she was innocent of any violence against Mr. Depp, who was always the aggressor, save for I think one minor act which she presented as self-defence, and that is referred to by the judge. For present purposes, we will now be in the judgment for a bit of time, so orange bundle A, please. For your Lordships' note it is tab 5. We gave fairly wide number of examples. I hope not impertinently, I would nonetheless true, that these conversations are quite different to evidence in court. A witness giving evidence in court does so under an oath or affirmation to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. Questioning can be controlled by the judge. Questions which are unclear can be re-phrased. If a question is not answered, it can be pressed (subject to the court's control) and if still unanswered may be the proper object of comment. None of those features applied to these conversations", then there is a second reason which I will deal with as well, "which, in any event, according to Ms. Heard had a purpose or purposes different from simply conveying truthful information."

My Lord, we put it very simply. Self-evidently, if in a contemporary, consensual tape-recorded conversation with a clear audio and more than enough length for proper context, the alleged victim admits to assaulting the alleged perpetrator on more than one occasion -- we would say several occasions on a fair view of the recording -- and says that she cannot promise that she will not get physical again. When it is her case that she has never been violent to the perpetrator, such evidence requires the most careful consideration by the judge.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Just before we get to your important points about this, my understanding, I should say, having read

- through the whole of the argument 2, or at any rate all the 3 relevant parts, is that, on a fair reading, she appears to
- 4 admit to two occasions, one the previous night, which is in
- 5 the extract on page A91, above the hole punch, where she says:
- 6 "... hit you across the face in a proper slap, but I was
 - hitting you, I was not punching you." So that is the first
- thing she refers to. Then she also refers to having thrown 8
- 9 pots and pans and I think probably a vase, which looks like
- 10 Australia, although actually if you look at the evidence about
- 11 Australia, there is reference to a vase but not to pots and
- pans. We can be too finicky about this, but those appear to 12
- be the two occasions. You were saying several occasions. 13

- 19 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, can I just say this? I accept
- 20 your Lordship's point, subject to correction behind me, that
- 2.1 it is only two. But it is not in the context where it can be
- 2.2 said to be only two. Your Lordship is right that it is only
- 2.3 two that she admits to, but it is not the kind of context
- 24 where you can say it has only happened twice, which is all she
- 25 is accepting. More to the point, the promise about future themselves obvious and very important advantages, the most obvious being that their contemporaneity makes them a more potent guide to the probabilities and also it is inherently less likely to be self-serving. Be it two occasions or more, it is a fundamentally important check against the reliability of Ms. Heard's case that she was never an aggressor and always a victim. The judge has to, we say, go through the text carefully, see what it amounts to, and then he does not do that exercise at all.

The second reason that the judge gives was that the recorded conversations, according to Ms. Heard, and I think it is common ground that they had a therapeutic purpose -- can I give your Lordships a reference to Ms. Heard's witness statement 5, at paragraphs 5 to 6, bundle B17, 147. One of the things she says is, "I did not want to provoke him", and I will come back to that. There is one passage in there which is perfectly obvious that she was not remotely concerned about provoking him. The judge does not say in terms that he accepts Ms. Heard's explanation or not, but in so far as the purpose was therapeutic, we have a number of submissions to make. First, it is hard to imagine any therapist advising a couple to lie to each other. Secondly, on the face of the conversation, its two dominant characteristics are candour and spontaneity. If you listen, neither side is holding back, if conduct suggests that this is not necessarily a one-off problem, if your Lordship understands me. That is the last quote. Mr. Sherborne points out that there is a reference

5 more generally to physical fights.

6 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: It is rather complicated. They use the term "fight" a lot. It is pretty clear mostly they mean what 8 most people call a row.

9 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, it was common grounds at the trial, your Lordship is absolutely right, that fight in the American sense

11 is of a fairly heated argument.

12 My Lord, the first point I make is this. It is 13 obviously true that oral evidence in court has formal

14 characteristics which contemporary documentary evidence does not have

16 LORD JUSTICE DINGEMANS: Are you equating the transcript or the 17 tape with a contemporaneous document?

18 MR. CALDECOTT: No, my Lord, I am making the contrast the judge is 19 drawing between oral evidence in court and a contemporary

20 recording. The judge says oral evidence in court is superior

21 for the reasons he gives. We say he is obviously right that

2.2 it has some advantages over other evidence, precisely because

23 of those formalities. But he is quite wrong, simply as a

24 basic matter of the law of evidence, to down grade the significance of contemporary documents, because they have

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

I can put it that way. The example that I was going to give when she says she was not concerned to provoke, but if you take one example, at tab 34, 271, he says, just to take the side bars of the speakers up: "Because you start physical fights?" She says: "You're such a baby. Grow the fuck up." He says: "Because you start physical fights?" and she says: "I did start a physical fight." That response, "You're such a baby. Grow the fuck up" is not the statement we say of someone who is worried about provoking Mr. Depp. But it is an example of why you simply cannot, if you were doing a proper fact-finding exercise, not deal with this argument too closely.

My Lord, there is another problem about this aspect of the evidence, which is J172, which is page A92. This is a separate recording.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Just before we leave that, at 176 the judge makes a reference to another recording. It is not one of the ones we have been given, I do not think, or is it? Have I misunderstood?

21 MR. CALDECOTT: No, we do not have that one, my Lord.

22 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: That is fine. I just wanted to check.

23 Nor have we got, I think, the transcript of Ms. Heard's

24 cross-examination about this conversation.

MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, no. There is the tight problem with the

- 6 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Can I just ask one other question while
- 7 I am interrupting you. Suppose the position were that the
- 8 judge ought to have found on the basis of this conversation
- 9 that there were at least these two occasions when she had
- 10 started the physical side of an altercation, which she, you - would say, admits. Obviously, it would not follow that the
- judge was not entitled to find that, while that may have
- happened once, twice, three times, whatever, the general
- 14 pattern was that he was the violent one and he started it.
- 15 That would be a wholly unexceptionable finding, would it not,
- where you have a couple who have a stormy relationship,
- generally one of them is much more violent than the other, but
- 18 occasionally she hits him, not on her admission very hard but
- 19 still is the first person actually to hit?
 - MR. CALDECOTT: Your Lordship is right that the judge could have - done that. Once he starts on this road, assume for the moment
- on your Lordship's hypothesis that he disbelieves Ms. Heard's
- "I am only a victim" line, it is pure speculation as to wherehe would have ended on the other matters.
- 25 My Lord, can I just mention just one example here which next recording. It is only an extract. This does tie in directly to incident 13, which is just before she goes to a music concert at Coachella. What the court needs to understand about this recording is it has got a completely different background. Ms. Heard had obtained a restraining order against Mr. Depp and there was after the restraining order a meeting in a hotel room, which I understand she initiated, and she recorded this meeting without Mr. Depp knowing. At the top punch hole, Mr. Depp says this, this is directly about incident 13: "I don't want a divorce, I never want an fuckin' divorce. I didn't want you to fuckin' go to Coachella ... without fuckin' talking to me because I left you because you were fuckin' ... you fuckin' hay-makered me, man. You came around to the bed to fuckin' start punching on me."

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

unsatisfactory. This is supplemental bundle 35, which is the the judge simply wraps up this recording at 172 with his general treatment of the matter at 175. But this recording has a completely different genesis.

If one goes to 466, when he is dealing with incident 13, paragraph 466, A148, he refers to Mr. Depp's account in evidence, which, broadly speaking, reflects what the

There is no denial by her of that. The obvious inference is

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

I am going to come to

- My Lord, it is a difficult. I just do not know ----
- LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Your point, I think you would have to
- 11 accept, is it must be very common, perhaps most common in
- 12 matrimonial cases, but in all sort of contexts, for both sides
- 13 to exaggerate a bit. You are saying, yes, on a fair reading
- of his judgment, the judge did not take that approach. The
- 15 judge believed every word she said and did not consider the
- possibility that they both might have sometimes started the
- 17 fights.

10

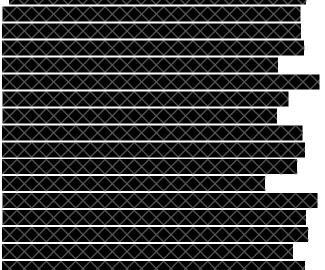

- 18 MR. CALDECOTT: Yes. It is quite simple, he did not conduct the
- 19 judicial fact-finding exercise correctly. The mere impossible
- 20 existence of another route is not, with great respect, a
- 21 reason for simply excluding this complaint.
- $22\,$ LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Okay. I do not want to slow you down.
- 23 It is an important point.
- 24 MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, can I just deal with another one, and
- 25 this is another important one, at 172. This is even more

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

transcript says, but then at paragraph 476(v), page A150, he says this: "I do not accept that Ms. Heard assaulted Mr. Depp on 21st April 2016." Then he says this: "I have explained already why my view on this remains the same notwithstanding the recorded conversation in San Francisco in July 2016."

My Lord, complaint 2, I am going to try and take very shortly because of time, is a very important complaint.

a complete departure from the previous case. It starts at (viii), bottom of page 102: "Mr. Sherborne submitted that it was significant that Ms. Heard had originally given a different date for Incident 2 and she and her sister had been caught out in a lie which had led them to change their story and split Incident 2 into two separate incidents", and so on. "I was not persuaded by in submission. I accept Ms. Heard's explanation for how she originally came to give the date of 8th March. Ms. Heard said that Mr. Depp inflicted a number of assaulted on her in March 2013. Only one is pleaded, but I accept that is why in some respects Ms. Heard's account was confused." He does not consider at all her original evidence that this incident stood out in March as the first time anything of this gravity had happened. Only one assault had been put to Mr. Depp in cross-examination. No details of the other alleged assaults had been given. We say this is fundamentally unfair.

I hope your Lordships understand why with these three examples I do say they all have an element of a thread that Ms. Heard's evidence is simply accepted, if I may put it not rudely, too glibly without proper forensic examination of the inherently probabilities and contemporary document. LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Although it does not need saying, we appreciate in the skeleton argument there are other examples,

SASHA WASS OC

MS. WASS: ... is that the judge found Ms Heard to be a compelling witness, on the one hand, and Mr. Depp to be a witness who lacked credibility, on the other hand. If one looks at various instances, and this is borne out by evidence of support that was presented in those instances, it is suggested that there was no analysis of either credibility or event. We suggest that is wrong. It is suggested in the documents that the judge failed to explain his reasons. Again, we say this is wrong. Furthermore, the suggestion is made that no witness was found to have lied. Again, we disagree. The learned judge did find on multiple occasions that Mr. Depp had lied. He did not use the word, but he used phrases such as "I cannot accept the evidence of Mr. Depp" in whatever regard it was. So, our broad submission in terms of the criticism of the judgment is that it is erroneous. Each of the 14 incidents of violence were subjected to forensic analysis and Ms. Heard's allegations were subjected to forensic analysis during the course of the judgment. In reaching his conclusions, the judge in respect of each of the allegations itemised the wealth of supporting evidence in this case, because this was not a case where there was simply Ms. Heard's evidence on the one hand and Mr. Depp's on the other. Many of the allegations included complaints that were made at the time by Ms. Heard, and I refer in particular to diary entries in electronic form.

SASHA WASS QC

There was an e-mail of 11th June 2013 when she described the behaviour of Mr. Depp, which was borne out in later instances, and which caused Mr. Depp to say that this was part of an elaborate hoax before the couple had even become engaged.

There were texts sent at the time of these various assaults that were either sent or received by Ms. Heard or indeed by Mr. Depp or those working for Mr. Depp, and I particularly will refer in a moment to incident 4, an incident on an aeroplane. Photographs of injuries were produced during the course of the trial, some of which were particularly important where metadata showed, for example, that Ms. Heard's injuries were recorded digitally and timed before police even attended her home. Medical evidence was produced, or evidence was produced as to what a nurse found about injuries to Ms. Heard. Apologies by Mr. Depp were sent by text, accepting his behaviour had been abominable and indeed Mr. Depp's assistant apologised to Ms. Heard again in relation to incident 4, that Mr. Depp had kicked her on the plane, which was exactly the allegation that Ms. Heard made. In addition, during the course of his evidence, Mr. Depp admitted for the first time that he had head-butted Ms. Heard in incident 13, in December 2015, although, having made this astonishing disclosure for the first time, he sought to temper it by suggesting that it was an accident.

ANDREW CALDECOTT QC

but you have appropriately chosen the most ----MR. CALDECOTT: One has to be selective at this stage.

My Lord, can I lastly say this for clarity. We acknowledge this court is in absolutely no position to decide whether these allegations are true or false. If I may just take hypothetically the optimist's view that we got permission and there was a full appeal and we succeeded, the only relief that we seek is a retrial, because plainly these would have to be re-examined. We say there should be in this exceptional case and by a proper fact-finding exercise where the fresh evidence would be part of the exercise.

My Lords, I am very grateful. LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Thank you. We will just take a short time to consider where we go from here. Thank you very much. (A short break)

Can I very briefly deal with incident 2 and correct one matter. There was cross-examination of Mr. Depp suggesting that there were other incidents in March. More particularly, against the background of incident 2, Mr. Depp accepted that he had, in his own words, fallen off the wagon in March 2013, and there was a wealth of evidence to suggest that he was engaged in taking large quantities of cocaine, drinking alcohol and that engaged what became known as the "monster", which he described as his alterego and the judge indeed accepted was a description of Mr. Depp's alter ego, the Mr. Hyde he turned into having consumed too many drugs and drunk too much alcohol.

SASHA WASS QC

The mistake about the date of incident 2 came to light very close to the trial. Mr. Caldecott is absolutely right. However, all documents that flowed from that, and there was more disclosure of text messages, photographs and the like, in fact supported that incident 2 must have taken place at the later date in March, not the earlier date in March. So, what we have is nothing more than a genuine mistake by a complainant who is the subject of long-term domestic abuse who has muddled up one incident with another at a time when she was making statements about this matter over three years later, because chronologically, the painting incident was 2013, in March. That is the March we are talking about. The witness box by Mr. Depp, having seen texts he had written to an actor colleague of his, that he had consumed large amount of alcohol, two bottles of champagne on the aeroplane, had consumed pills and drugs, which he accepted was a reference to illegal drugs, and he accepted that he had blacked out. His memory was simply imperfect in respect of the entire episode.

All of that demonstrates or would have enabled any judge to say that the account given by Ms. Heard was preferable to that of Mr. Depp. There was a careful analysis of this incident in the judgment. Any of the criticism made simply cannot be applied to that episode. More importantly, Ms. Heard was never cross-examined about that incident on the aeroplane and her evidence remained uncontradicted. The judge found that Mr. Depp had kicked her.

Complaint is made in the schedule, which is at tab B1, where each allegation is set and they are saying no judicial findings. Complaint is made in relation to incident 4 that the judge did not make any findings about the fact that Mr. Depp threw objects at Ms. Heard or pushed a chair at Ms. Heard. It is not necessary, in our submission, for any fact finder to deconstruct an assault and say within a court setting that they believe this part of the incident happened but were not sure about another part. It is the overall effect of that plane journey which was the subject of incident marriage only came to an end in May 2016, when of course all this was put in documentary form for proceedings and the like. So a mistake about a date can hardly, in our submission, be fundamental to a witness's credibility.

Can I just deal by way of example, and I am very mindful of the time, with two incidents that formed part of the 14 and part of the 12 in respect of which the learned judge found in the defendants' favour, and they are incident 4 and incident 8. Incident 4 dealt with a plane journey from Boston to Los Angeles during which the allegation made by Ms. Heard was that the defendant arrived on the aeroplane drunk, under the influence of alcohol, he was argumentative and he kicked her in the back. The response by Mr. Depp at first was that he was entirely lucid during the course of the journey and that no such incident occurred. Text messages which came to light during the disclosure exercise demonstrated, first of all, that Mr. Depp had apologised to Ms. Heard for his behaviour. These are all set out, if I can give my Lord the reference rather than going through it, between paragraphs 239 and 265 at the judgment. There were text messages comprising apologies by Mr. Depp, an apology to Ms. Heard by Mr. Depp's assistant Mr. Deuters saying that Mr. Depp had cried "when I told him he had kicked you", admissions by Mr. Depp to friends, to his sister and, finally, an acceptance in the

4, and the judge found in accordance with the uncontradicted evidence in that case.

Incident 8, if I can take my Lords through that, I hope, briefly, was the Australia incident. Contrary to what has been suggested this morning, the judge did criticise Ms. Heard by saying she described it in a hostage situation. It was hyperbole, but he went through the incident itself and the allegations and was satisfied that they occurred in the way that Ms. Heard had described. It has to be borne in mind that again Mr. Depp was proved to have lied about his drug intake immediately before and during that incident. Again, in the course of the judgment, which can be found in relation to incident 8 between paragraphs 287 and 370, the judge goes through what became known as the Nathan Holmes drug tests. Before Ms. Heard even arrived in Australia, Mr. Depp was involved in securing that he had adequate quantities of cocaine and pills. Happy pills as he called them. The texts by Mr. Depp again supported Ms. Heard's case on that incident, but did not support the case that he tried to advance at trial. Mr. Depp admitted that he had cut off his own finger during the course of this incident. LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Not cut off.

MS. WASS: Cut his own finger. I think he actually used the words

"I cut off my finger", but that is not ----

[Page 60] [Page 62] 1 SASHA WASS QC 1 SASHA WASS QC 2 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: He did, but it is not what happened. 2 making of it? 3 MS. WASS: Absolutely, and I apologise. 3 MS. WASS: Can I just qualify what my Lord is suggesting, because LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: He did serious injury to his finger. 4 I do not say those were the best examples? There were other 4 5 MS. WASS: Yes, he did serious injury to his finger. Instead of 5 examples where there were people who saw Ms. Heard's injuries, seeking medical attention, his immediate following text was to 6 6 make up artists, people who saw her after the May incident and 7 demand more cocaine. Mr. Depp admitted in his own evidence 7 there were witnesses who heard her shouting when a telephone 8 8 that it was he who used the blood from the seriously injured was thrown at her face. 9 finger to deface property in the house. Photographs were in 9 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Very well. 10 the bundle of abusive messages written to Ms. Heard, 10 MS. WASS: So we do not say these ---suggesting that she had been unfaithful to him. When the LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I was not saying they were the only 11 11 12 12 blood source dried up from the finger, Mr. Depp went on to use examples. I just wanted to know what the point was that you 1.3 13 paint, and the entire house was vandalised. were making from these two examples. 14 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: We have read his findings about that. 14 MS. WASS: The point I am making is that there is supporting 15 15 MS. WASS: Yes. It was during the course of that that Ms. Heard evidence in both of those examples. There is also supporting said that she was assaulted in a variety of ways, one of which 16 16 evidence in many other examples. 17 was that glass which had been broken by Mr. Depp had broken on 17 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Certainly. 18 the floor and she had been dragged on the floor and had 18 MS. MR. WOLANSKI: That may be right. But

3 importantly, the issue had already come up in the US

5 LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: In the US proceedings, yes, but what

6 about the UK proceedings or the English proceedings?

MR. WOLANSKI: In the UK proceedings, in the English proceedings the point had not come up because Ms. Heard did not address it

9 until February. But in the US proceedings we know that

10 already in November 2019, Mr. Depp's legal team was asking 11 Ms. Heard to address questions on this topic by way of the request for admissions, and in December 2019, was asking

Ms. Sexton questions on this topic in her deposition. So it was already a live issue at the end of 2019, in the US

proceedings.So, why

So, why is it then that no effort was made to issue the subpoena in the US proceedings until the end of May 2019? We do not know, because Ms. Vasquez, who is the witness who has given a witness statement on this topic for this appeal does not address the point. As I say, it took just under seven months to get the documents once the subpoena had been issued in May 2020. That includes a month of an agreed stay, if you like, while the hospital dealt with other matters, but it also includes a number of other delays. For example, it took many 25 months for Ms. Heard's motion to quash the subpoena to be dealt with by the court. Then there are a number of other delays.

Now, we do not know whether or not, if the subpoena had been issued earlier, those delays would have occurred. It may well be of course had the subpoena been issued pre-pandemic, many of those delays would not have occurred at all. We do not know. But there is no reason why this court should not conclude it was perfectly possible for Mr. Depp's lawyers to issue the subpoenas much earlier in the proceedings and therefore to get the documents by July.

Next is by getting the documents off Ms. Heard in the US proceedings. Now, we know an application was made for disclosure against Ms. Heard in the US proceedings that was heard on 18th December 2020. And that succeeded. But we know nothing else at all about that application. We are not told when it was issued. We are not told why it was not issued earlier. The evidence is silent on that topic. Again, there is no reason for this court to suppose that had a subpoena or application for disclosure been made earlier in the US proceedings against Ms. Heard, the documents or the information could not have been obtained earlier from her.

The third route is by asking Ms. Heard questions in cross-examination at trial. The explanation that is given by Mr. Depp's legal team for not doing this, we say, does not

ADAM WOLANSKI QC

So, Mr. Waldman was plainly hot on the trail of this

ADAM WOLANSKI QC

hold water. It is said that it did not occur to Mr. Depp's legal team to question what Ms. Heard had said on this topic, and that Ms. Heard's word was accepted at face value. It is Now, we find this very difficult to understand. First the UK the US legal team had already issued the subpoenas, so plainly the US team knew or had reason to believe that there were at least questions to be answered about these donations, so this is a live train of inquiry in the US proceedings. But team goes much further because Mr. Depp himself had been asking the questions about the donations as far back as 2016.

Your Lordships will have seen the texts in which he raises the

The matter was also addressed by Mr. Waldman, who is

Mr. Depp's US lawyer, when he gave comments to a magazine article, the blast article, in June 2020. Where he discloses information before this trial started. So, if there were these questions in the mind of Mr. Depp's team, why an earth did they not ask Ms. Heard any questions on this topic at trial?

We also know, of course, that Mr. White was asking questions about this matter well before the trial started. He had had conversations about it with Mr. Depp's legal team, he tells us. And then of course, as your Lordships have noted, documents were added to the trial bundle on this topic, and the only reason they could have been added to the trial bundle is because it was planned to ask Ms. Heard questions about them in cross-examination. Two examples of documents that were added, which can only have been added for that purpose, there is no other possible reason, one is The Children's Hospital roll of honours, which of course includes Ms. Heard as one of the donors, and another is the Dutch interview which is the interview in which Ms. Heard discusses the fact that she had made these donations to charity. So, those were plainly included in order to form the basis for questions of Ms. Heard. A decision was made not to question her, and the obvious answer to the question, well, why not, is because the claimant's legal team knew that it was not a matter that was going to get them anywhere at trial, regardless of how Ms. Heard answered the questions.

ADAM WOLANSKI QC

The fourth way in which this information could have been obtained is from the charities directly. The court has seen the letter that The Children's Hospital wrote to Mr. White on 16th June 2019, which Mr. White says he did not receive. Importantly, that letter volunteers the information that no further payments had been made in pursuance of what is described as the multiple scheduled donations. Therefore, had Mr. White approached the charity directly to ask about the donations, this court can conclude they would have volunteered the information to him again. They were quite happy to volunteer it to him in June 2019, they would have been perfectly happy to volunteer it to him later had Mr. White taken the trouble to ask. He says it would have been professionally inappropriate and it was confidential information which the charity would not have provided, but that is not supported by the fact that the charity sent him the letter unprompted by anything he had asked many months beforehand. As I say, it is particularly odd Mr. White did not take this step because he tells us he had suspicions about whether or not these payments had been made by Ms. Heard.

The fifth thing that Mr. Depp's legal team could have done is seek information from Ms. Heard by way of third party disclosure in these proceedings. I will say no more about that. An application was made. No effort was made to seek

ADAM WOLANSKI QC

The labelling of Ms. Heard as a gold-digger was a misogynistic trope. The gold-digger theory was hopeless and indeed the hoax theory was hopeless.

So the gold-digger theory was not pursued at trial. It was not mentioned in closing submissions on behalf of the claimant. And even if the judge had had the fresh evidence and decided that it did demonstrate Ms. Heard was a gold-digger, this would not, of course, have driven him to conclude she had constructed a hoax, still less that she had not been subject to violence at the hands of Mr. Depp. So the whole theory was nonsensical. The evidence went to no issue in the case. It solely went to credit.

As to credit, the question of Ms. Heard's credit was very extensively investigated at trial. Your Lordships will have seen that a number of matters were raised by Mr. Depp's team, and explored at great length by the judge at trial and explained in his evidence. Each one was rejected. This was not a case in which the defendant was deprived of material with which to attack Ms. Heard 's credit or indeed the chance to deploy it at trial. It was very fully explored. This material would have made no difference at all to the credit of Ms. Heard.

As Ms. Wass has explained, the findings of the judge were rooted not just in Ms. Heard's evidence but in these documents by way of that application.

Finally, it was open to Mr. Depp's legal team to issue an application in the US courts against the charities for access to the documents in pursuance of these proceedings. The reason why we know that that might have got somewhere is because the defendants' legal team made a very similar application by way of what is known as a section 178(2) application under Article 28 of the US code, for an order compelling witnesses in the US to give evidence in the UK proceedings. So, there is no reason why Mr. Depp's legal team could not have done exactly the same thing. They could have gone to the US court and said, "We have a trial in the UK coming up, this is an important matter, we need the documents". He did not do it. He does not tell us why.

Briefly on the second stage of Ladd v Marshall materiality. This material, if produced before trial would not have had any effect at all on the outcome of the case. We make three points on this. First of all, whether or not Ms. Heard had donated the sums was not a pleaded issue. The judge was therefore not required to decide it. It could only have had any bearing at all on the pleaded issues if it was prayed in aid of the so-called "gold-digger" thesis. And that was of course a thesis that was expressly abandoned by Mr. Depp's legal team during the trial. Correctly abandoned.

corroborative evidence that was very extensive. So the proposition that her evidence would have been rejected as a result of this material is, we say, fanciful.

Finally, in any event, the information does not demonstrate that Ms. Heard lied. What she said in her witness statement was that she had donated the money, not that she had paid it. A donation is not the same as a payment, and we know that, not least because this is how the charities themselves have understood what Ms. Heard has done. The ACLU, your Lordships have seen the document, they understood what Ms. Heard to have done was to have made a pledge to pay over 10 years. That is a donation. Similarly, with The Children's Hospital, Ms. Heard is listed on the list of donors in the 1 million to 5 million category because she has pledged this amount. She is a donor. Therefore, there is nothing wrong, let alone dishonest about Ms. Heard's description of what she has done as making a donation.

Moreover, Ms. Heard has made a number of payments already in pursuance of these pledges. There is the $100,000. There are a number of other payments either been made by her or in her name. In total, some $950,000 to the ACLU, 850,000 to the CHLA, either as a grant for an anonymous donor which has been in honour of her or designated as a donation.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: I do not think it matters. I think it is [19] (Pages 72 to 75)

[Page 76] [Page 78] ADAM WOLANSKI QC 1 1 ADAM WOLANSKI QC 2 not prudent to assume that the amounts from anonymous donors 2 you nothing to say. We will give you the five minutes. 3 in honour of her can be counted against the 7 million or the 3 4 3.5 million. One does not know enough about who paid them or 4 5 on what basis. I do not think that affects your substantive 5 6 point which is that she has paid money out of her own pocket. 6 7 MR. WOLANSKI: She has. As your Lordships have observed, her 7 8 explanation when this came up in the US court was she had made 8 9 these pledges and fully intended to fulfil them. There is no 9 1.0 reason to suppose that had she been questioned in this trial 10 11 she would not have given exactly the same explanation to the 11 12 court here that her lawyer gave to the US court when the 12 13 matter arose in December last year. She said nothing 13 14 dishonest in her witness statement whatsoever. 14 15 So, my Lord, the evidence would have made absolutely no 15 16 difference to the case. The judge found that she had in his 16 17 words, made a gift and a donation. He did not find she had 17 18 made payments. Therefore, what he found about what she had 18 19 19 done was correct. So that is what we say on the fresh 20 evidence. 20 21 21 Very briefly on the law. I see the time. The test for 2.2 evidence going purely to credit is the higher test and this is 22 evidence purely going to credit. That is the test explained 2.3 23 24 in Braddock v Tillotson's Newspapers. It is a test which 24 2.5 requires the court to find that no reasonable jury or court 2.5 [Page 77] [Page 79] 1 1 ADAM WOLANSKI QC ANDREW CALDECOTT OC 2 2 could be expected to act upon the evidence of a witness whose MR. with argument 2, and with other contemporary documentary evidence, can I quickly go to one or two paragraphs of the judge's judgment. There is another curious fact, at 323, a mobile phone by was left on at the relevant time to the Australia incident. It contains two very significant statements: "There's been bottles thrown" -- this is the first paragraph -- "and she admits to me she threw the first ..." Then in the next paragraph, three lines down, "And she

Now, argument 2 at page 10 has got a broadly similar reference to the throwing of cans by her and this was a room, I think, where there were cans of paint. I mention that just to show that the contemporary documentation on this is by no means all one way. If your Lordships were to look, for example, at 354, just another piece of evidence, this is from Mr. King on the plane back after Australia: "Have you ever been so angry with someone that you just lost it?" This is a question from Ms. Heard. 355: she says she did not recall having that conversation. The judge then picked up the point ---- to be with me about this, would it have affected the judge's overall approach to her credibility? And we say of course it would. Just to give you a reference in Meek v Fleming as to where that question is actually asked in Meek v Fleming, which of course is the really quite extraordinary case, at tab 2 ----

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: If you are going to read that, you should 22 2.3 read the second sentence as well.

LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Do you want us to go to it? MR. CALDECOTT: My Lord, I will just read it. It is tab 2, page 384: "If the purport of the fresh evidence had become known in the course of the trial, it would have shown both that the defendant had taken part in the deception of a court in the matter for which he was demoted ..." So they do examine not only the effect of the true representation ----LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: This is the point you made earlier. MR. CALDECOTT: Yes, thank you. My Lord, there is just the point that there is obviously a potential for cross-contamination once particular incidents start to be -- the reason looks how the judge deals with this. Then the judge makes a fleeting reference to argument 2, that promise. Then, if we go to 370 at (xxiv), we see again how this is all dismissed: "I accept that it is possible that Ms Heard made the remark which Mr King attributed to her. It certainly has an uncanny echo of exactly the same phrase which Ms Heard used in Argument 2. But, even if she did make that remark and intend it to refer to herself, rather than Mr Depp, my conclusions remain the same for all the other reasons I have given." I use that to illustrate.

very little about reasonable diligence. I have been over the objections and I am not going to repeat anything. Two things which arise, which is this. If this evidence is entirely neutral, why does Ms. Heard go to such lengths to suppress it? No explanation is offered for that by my learned friend at all. It goes both to materiality and to the likely answer we might have got if we had asked a question.

The last thing is this. What my learned friend's analysis about the effect of it does not analyse at all is, if it were known that it was a lie, and obviously the court has LORD JUSTICE UNDERHILL: Yes, I see that. Well, we are very grateful to counsel for very effective and well-focused submissions. We are not going to reach an immediate decision today, but because this is a permission to appeal application we will make it very shortly. But it will be handed down in writing in the usual way. I do not think there is anything else we need say. Thank you.
